DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on September 19, 2006 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. The Amendment submitted on September 19, 2006, has been entered. Claim 9 has been cancelled. Claims 1 and 12 have been amended. Claims 1 – 24 are pending. Claims 14 – 24 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a nonelected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 1 – 6, 10, and 13 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Huber et al. (5,066,529) for the reasons of record.

5. Claims 1 – 6, 10, and 13 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mullis (2002/0083507) for the reasons of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Art Unit: 1771

7. Claim 11 stands rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huber et al. or Mullis in view of Lee (4,792,471) or Crawford (4,517,230) for the reasons of record.

8. Claims 7 and 8 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huber et al. in view of Bylund et al. (5,486,385) for the reasons of record.

9. Claim 12 stands rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huber et al. in view of Hamilton (5,010,589) for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments filed September 19, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that Huber et al. doesn't teach a self-adherent substrate that sticks to itself and not to the object to which it is applied (response, page 5). However, for the reasons set forth in the previous Office Action, Huber teaches using a self-adherent wrap. Huber specifically teaches that the wrap is made by the methods disclosed in Hansen (3,575,782) which teaches self-adherent webs or tapes. The applicant's own specification admits that Hansen teaches how to produce self-adherent wraps (page 4, lines 3 – 5). Further, Huber et al. discloses various materials can be used to form the tape substrate and that the tape may be bare backed (i.e., no adhesive) or coated with a pressure-sensitive adhesive (column 3, lines 2 – 4). Hence, Huber et al. does not require an adhesive layer. Therefore, both Huber and the applicant teach applying a camouflage print to the same web material, which would inherently have the same properties.

11. The applicant also argues that Huber et al. teaches away from the prior art because the camouflage pattern is applied at an angle (response, page 5 – 6). However, the present claim does not exclude that the camouflage pattern is applied in any angled or stretched pattern. There is nothing in the claim that limits how the camouflage pattern is applied. Further, varying the camouflage design applied to fabric is a design variation in the printed pattern applied to the surface and does not structurally effect the claimed product. In other words, the structural features claimed are a self-adherent wrap with a camouflage patterned applied to the surface. Thus, the prior art teaches the claimed structural limitations, and the rejection is maintained.

12. The applicant argues that the invention disclosed by Mullis does not teach a self-adherent material as recited in claim 1 because Mullis discloses a band and not a wrap (response, page 6). However, the band meets the claimed definition of self-adherent since it does not adhere to the material it is covering and does not require fasteners. The applicant argues the ordinary meaning of a band does not read on a wrap. The applicant defines a band as a thin, flat, encircling strip and a wrap as a material that is wound or coiled so as to encircle or cover something. First, the term "wrap" in the claim is a preamble limitation which is not given any weight. Second, both a wrap and a band are a material that is used to encircle something. Hence, a band is a type of wrap. Thus, the rejection is maintained.

13. The applicant argues that the 35 USC 103 rejections based on Huber et al. or Mullis should be withdrawn since these references fail to teach the claimed wrap (response, pages 6 – 7). However, as set forth above, both these references do teach using a claimed material. Thus, the rejections are maintained.
